Frontier Dental Laboratories would like to congratulate the Doctors who recently completed the first of two sets of CCADS Hands-On programs in Dana Point (Southern California), San Francisco (Northern California), and Vancouver (British Columbia).

There was a full house at all three programs and they were filled with learning, knowledge sharing, networking and a fair share of laughter!

Paolo Kalaw, CEO of Frontier Dental Laboratories and key benefactor to CCADS, said:

“We are proud to support the California Center for Advanced Dental Studies because we have seen many of the programs in the industry and few, if any, provide the mentoring and supportive environment that CCADS provides. We continue to see the exceptional quality of dentistry that CCADS is producing and the incredible changes that CCADS brings to the dentists' lives.”

Dr. Adam Pite, one of the dentists in the Vancouver program, had an amazing result with his patient, and is quoted as saying:

“I had one of the most memorable moments so far in my young career when I brought my patient and friend, Chris, out to the car where her husband Keith was waiting. She had been amazed with the look of (the teeth) up until that point, but I think it hadn't really hit her yet. All he said, with a big smile himself, was "WOW!! Chris.... you look beautiful!" and she literally burst into tears.”

BEFORE

AFTER

(Please note the above photographs show the patient's provisional (temporary) veneers. The final veneers will replace the provisionals in a few weeks time. We will be back with an update to show you the final results!)

And it is these results that keep us smiling here at Frontier!
